Sometimes a group of figures or a large piece is just so great that you hate to split them up between two blisters. That is why Grenadier has recently added the Grand pack line, a series of large containers that can hold large war machines, multi-piece creatures, or a larger set of figures than a normal pack will allow. These Grand Packs also help to keep the price you pay lower on these large figure sets while allowing you to see what you are buying before you get home.
Returning to a tradition started by Grenadier almost two decades ago, the brand new 400 line offers the discriminating miniaturist accessories of all types for his or her figure needs. Whether painting and assembling a diorama, expanding miniature gaming options, or simply seeking to start an unusual collection, the 400 Accessory series is your answer.

Our Environment

It is important that those of you who are concerned about our environment know that Grenadier pioneered multi-use packaging in our industry back in the 1970s. Grenadier uses recycled paper whenever possible in our packaging. We designed our boxed sets so that the boxes and foam liners can be used as figure storage and carrying cases. This foam, and that found in our blister packs, can also be used for packing material when you send packages. The foam can even be cut up and used when painting large figure or diorama surfaces for creating a stippled effect, like brick.

The clear blisters themselves have many uses. They make excellent water trays when you are painting your miniatures. They also are ideal for mixing together paints or two-part epoxy glue when assembling our "big babies" (like mammoths, a roc, giants, etc.). When dealing with our product packages don’t just toss them out, try and use them for another job. You’ll gain in the long run, and so will our planet.

Grenadier Models
A Word To Our Friends

Having problems finding our miniatures? We always encourage gamers and miniature collectors to support their local hobby shops first and foremost. But, there are hundreds of new miniature releases every month, how can you find the Grenadier figures you want? First, tell your local retailer exactly what Grenadier products you would like. Let you retailer known that you wish to be notified about the Grenadier releases each and every month (there are ALWAYS new release every month). And while we may run out of a miniature here at Grenadier occasionally, it is never gone too long, so always try again later. If you do not have an adequate hobby store nearby, or are unsatisfied with the service you are receiving, how about writing to us direct.

Did you know that Grenadier Models has a Mail Order catalog of its own with thousands of miniatures in it that you can order directly from us? Well, we do and we want to make sure that you get the Grenadier miniatures you want. We want you to support your local hobby stores first. But if they are not supplying your Grenadier needs, write us at the address below and we'll send you our 94 Grenadier Catalog updates, special offers, new gaming stats, and surprises.

Bred for war, the Orc warriors are despisers and polluters of everything that is good. Spearheaded by fierce assault troops, allied with all that is evil, their brutal armies march on. Although unstable in battle, their many different weapons make them a threat to all they encounter.

The proud race of Dwarves looks out from its forbidding, mountain strongholds, ready to fight for gold, glory, or revenge. Slow moving they may be, but disciplined and well armored Dwarves often fight to the last. Their accurate crossbows and fearsome axemen can help make their enemies pay heavily for any attack.

Fantasy Warriors Miniature Game System
(Designed for use with 25 mm miniatures)
Slavering hordes of evil beings clash with staunch defenders of the Right. Grenadier’s Fantasy Warriors Miniature Battle Game can be used to expand any RPG to 3-D action, or can be played alone as a tabletop miniature combat game. Hundreds of support products make this one of the most expandable, and popular, fantasy miniature products today. The game comes with 102 25 mm plastic miniatures of dwarves and orcs which require minimal assembly.

Fantasy Warriors Companion
Following on from the success of Grenadier’s Fantasy Warriors fantasy battle game, this essential complement adds new dimensions of exciting game play.
In the Necromancer section, complete rules are provided for the fearsome undead army covering everything from menacing liches to awesome undead monsters.
Mercenary, the second part of the book, introduces a host of new features including speeches, firewater, poisoned arrows, battlefield equipment, tricks, mercenaries, artillery, huge creatures and new spells. New individuals are detailed such as the paladin hero, the destroyer hero, the marksman, druids and the amazon enchantress. Among the many new army lists that are presented are the undead, amazons, mercenary half orcs and horse-riders, mercenary dragons and giant and high elves. In addition, all the original army lists are updated and expanded. Finally, there is a section updating the Fantasy Warrior rules and hints on the conducting of multi-player games.

Grenadier Models
The Lost Lands line is a collection of 9 sets of miniatures, each based on a single theme of race or unit type. Each box offers the Role Playing gamer a typical selection of that race (or adventuring party) which could be encountered in almost any fantasy world. Miniature war gamers will find these sets particularly attractive for building core units for both new and established 25mm armies. The Lost Lands line is supported by specific Fantasy Legends blister packs which offer commanders, banner-bearers, musicians, heroes & champions, and specialty troops for each army. Please see the Fantasy Legends section for these figures.

Future Warriors™ Metal Miniatures

From the amazing mind and talent of Grenadier’s Mark Copplestone comes a series of miniatures for science fiction aficionados. Designed for a future urban setting, the line features cybered adventurers, weird gang members, armed citizens, and those that try to hold the lid on the steaming caldrons that are the cities of the future. These totally new and creative figures are offered in the popular 2-pack blister format. Supported by Nick Lund’s Kill Zone™ game system. The fast-paced, deadly squad level game. Future warrior vehicles and “Mechs” by Ian Symonds.

1575 “Kill Zone”
The Game For Future Warriors

The Future Warriors™ line is perfect for use with all “Future” and “Dark Future”gaming systems.

Warlords

Smaller scale enthusiasts went crazy for our Warlords fantasy line in 1993. It first featured army units for tabletop fantasy miniature games, such as elves, humans, dwarves, and goblins, sold by unit type (archers, chariots, cavalry, etc.,). Then the line expanded to include war machines and beasts never before encountered in small scale miniatures before, such as siege machines, giant woolly mammoths, huge cannon, and other battlefield terrors. This year we provide even more basic fantasy armies (such as undead masses), while expanding the offerings of unusual 15mm piece, such as a dragon riding knights. Keep looking to Grenadier for the very best in small scale innovation and production.

WELCOME TO DRAGON LORDS

Last year Grenadier first introduced to the world a new concept in gaming, the mini scale fantasy game Dragon Lords™ Dragon Combat Game. To expand this game, Grenadier released a line of Mini Dragons in blister packs. Since that time these tiny dragons have become very popular as collector items and new monsters in other fantasy games of all scales. This year we expand the Mini Dragon line into new horizons with totally unique releases. Keep a sharp lookout for these little beauties.
